INTRODUCTION

Foundation of Honor

Honor is a principle that is taught throughout the Bible. Adam and Eve were told to honor God and His Word by not eating of the tree of good and evil. We are to honor God with our firstfruits. Honor your father and mother—this is the first commandment with a promise. Honor those who have rule over you.

God's Word is a manual for how to honor, whom to honor, and when to honor.

If honor is in your heart, then honor will come out. Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks. The old saying is, you cannot get blood out of a stone. It is true, what is in a toothpaste tube will come out when you squeeze it.

Over the past generations the foundation of honor has eroded and deteriorated. Respect and honor for police, politicians, preachers, and parents have fallen to a terrible low. "Now brother will betray brother to death, and a father his child; and children will rise up against parents and cause them to be put to death." (Mark 13:12)

Even the men and women who founded the United States are depicted as people of low moral character by this generation. The reputation of our heroes has been reduced to one of bad habits and loose living.

It is time for us to raise the standard, to once again honor those who have been placed in our lives to enable us to fulfill the plan of God. The benefits to us personally, to our nation, and to future generations are immeasurable.
